

Northamptonshire Talking - Police Community Messaging Service

The Northamptonshire Police community messaging service, which provides a simple and convenient way for local people to receive news and updates about crime and policing in their area, has been relaunched under a new name, Northamptonshire Talking.

Previously known as Northamptonshire Neighbourhood Alert, the new-look Northamptonshire Talking offers local residents the opportunity to get connected with what's happening in their local area, stay up to date about crime and policing issues, and get involved in shaping local policing priorities.

Residents who were already signed up to Neighbourhood Alert need do nothing – their accounts will automatically transfer to the new service and they will continue to receive the same message choices. Those wishing to sign up to Northamptonshire Talking should go to the website, www.northamptonshiretalking.co.uk and select the Sign Up tag. The process also offers the option to join the Neighbourhood Watch scheme for Kilsby (designation D90) of which 100 Kilsby residents are already members.
